CHANGES IN TREASURY REGULATIONS.

—The Treasurer of the United States issued a circular this afternoon, which embodied the following changes in the regulations: First, the regulation fee on packages of standard silver dollars and fractional silver coin forwarded by mail by the Treasurer will be paid by the Government. Second, the Treasurer will forward fractional silver coin by express in multiples of $500 at the expense of the Government for deposits of gold coin or currency or remittances to his office. Third, the five-cent nickel coin are no longer furnished by the Mint. Fourth, the express charges are paid by the Government on worn or mutilated U. THE CHICAGO POST-OFFICE.—Considerable has been said lately with reference to the sending of a commission from this city to Chicago to investigate and reorganize the post-office there. There was really no foundation for the rumor. The First Assistant Postmaster-General states that the affairs of the Chicago office have not been questioned. Recently he decided to form a commission, himself to be a member, to visit Chicago and consult with Postmaster-Palmer as to the advisability of increasing his clerical force. Before the commission was formed, however, it was discovered that the Post-Office Department had no money to carry out this plan, and it has been indefinitely postponed. "Postmaster-Palmer would not be responsible for irregularities should any occur in his office," Palmer would not be responsible for irregularities should any occur in his office. added Gen. Tyner, "as its affairs are under the supervision of special agents. Any failure of their's to report promptly and correctly the workings of the office would throw the blame upon them. COUNT DE ARNA, in a ghostly-white suit, walked into the Post-Office Department to-day. The Count is perfectly harmless; but the recent arrival of the report of his alleged intention of assassinating John Sherman caused the Post-Office Department messengers and others to look upon him with suspicion. Three special agents shad-owed him continually, and Cook, Woodward and Gibson were notified to hold them-selves in readiness for any demonstra-tion the Count should make. The President's Appearance To-day The President was much better to-day and is particularly improved in personal appearance. His skin is much cooler and looks clearer and his eyes more natural. He refrains from conversation almost entirely. The usual amount of pus was dis-charged from the wound to-day. It was of a good, healthy character. The President is so weak that he can scarcely raise his head, but all the physicians now agree that his condition is very much improved.

There was a rumor to-day that the President was much worse than yesterday. Dr. Reyburn's attention was called to it and he denied it most emphatically, and said that, on the contrary, the President was much better.

on the contrary, the President was much better.

The Unfavorable Symptoms Disappear.

Private Secretary Brown stated this morning that the unfavorable symptoms which made their appearance yesterday afternoon have entirely subsided. The President passed a very comfortable, restful night, and this morning his pulse is 96 and temperature 99.6°. This would seem to indicate that the increased pulse and temperature of last evening was merely

A Temporary Fluctuation, due, as the surgeons supposed at the time, to some momentary tax upon his nervous system rather than to any permanent un-favorable change in his condition.

The Temperature of the Room. The large fee-box on which the carpenters were at work yesterday was completed to-day. The intention is to duplicate the present arrangements for reducing the tem-perature in the President's room so that in case of accident to one apparatus, the other could be put to immediate use, and no change in the temperature be caused for even a short time.

The Subscription for Mrs. Garfield The Subscription for Mrs. Garfield.

"How does the subscription list look this morning?" asked a good-looking scribe of The Critic of Cyrus W. Field to-day.

"Flattering." was the answer, "very flattering. We have met with unexpected success so far, and were it necessary to urge increased liberality, I do not doubt but that the sum could be easily made to reach half a million dollars."

"Rather a substantial appreciation of the President's worth," The Critic scribe suggested.

Yes: Gen. Garfield is a popular man with the people, and this recent cowardly attempt to stay him has been followed by attempt to stay him has been followed by spontaneous sympathy for himself and family all over the country."

"Of course, if the President dies, this fund will go to his family, but what will you do with it if he recovers?"

"Well," said Mr. Field, hesitatingly, "it has been subscribed for him and is his, but there are doubts existing whether he will accept it. But, of course, this is a matter we have not considered. It will have to rest for future action."

we have not considered. It will have to rest for future action."

Mr. Field, who arrived here yesterday, called at the White House and had a brief interview with Mrs. Garfield. During the interview nothing was said though of the subscription fund. The visit was simply one to express regret for the brutal attempt to take the President's life, and to express pleasure that the chances for the patient's pleasure that the chances for the patient's recovery looked so bright.

Secretary Kirkwood's Opinion of The President's Condition. Secretary Kirkwood was in his seat at the Interior Department all day to-day. He is so sanguine of the President's recovery that he did not deem it necessary to visit the White House to-day, but kept himself imformed by special messengers of the condition of His Excellency.

Secretary Kirkwood said to The Critic that his mind was now at ease respecting that his mind was now at ease respecting President Garfield.

"He will undoubtedly recover," he said, "and will not be invalidated physically for as long a space of time as many think for. Of course, in view of the heated season and this abominable weather, President Garfield will not recover his physical strength as quickly as if it was in the fall or winter. I receive a large number of letters and telegrams from the people of my State, and it is a delightful sensation to me to reply that the President is certain of early recovery and out of any positive danger."

TUNISIAN COMPLICATIONS.

The Khedive of Egypt Opposes the French Protectorate-France Surprised-England Supposed to Have Influenced the Decision.

London, July 12.—The Khedive of Egypt has informed France that he would act in conformity with the wishes of the Porte, and therefore would not recognize the proposed French protectorate in Tunis. This statement has caused great surprise in Paris, where it has been believed that the intrigues carried on in Cairo and Alexandria by French emissaries would sway the Khedive to the French side. In Paris it is the belief that the present attitude of the Khedive to the French side. belief that the present attitude of the Khe-dive is due to the preponderating influence of the English government.

ONE OF VANDERBILT'S MOVES.

He Disposes of all His Michigan Cen-tral Stock. NEW YORK, July 12.—It is rumored this afternoon that Wm. H. Vanderbilt has disposed of all his Michigan Central in the same way that he did with Canada Southern. He has been a large borrower, it is claimed, of the stock in open market, and it is understood that certificates which have been in his name, but which was lately transferred to the names of two large brokerage houses, will be returned to the street this week to replace the borrowed stock. The local short interest in the room has been cornered and the borrowing demand is purely artificial, the leading rate declining to 1 per cent. for carrying.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Passengers Seriously Injured on the New Jersey Southern Road.

New York, July 12.—Mr. Harris, superintendent of the New Jersey Southern Railroad, this morning received a dispatch stating that an accident had occurred on the road at Lakeville, by which a number of passengers were seriously injured. The dispatch does not say any one was killed nor patch does not say any one was killed, nor does it give any particulars. The assistant superintendent went down to the scene of the disaster, and will telegraph full particu-lars as soon as they can be gathered.

GRISCOM FEASTING.

A Good Square Meal After an Alleged Forty-five Days' Fast.
Chicago, Ll., July 12.—Griscom passed a very restless night. When examined this morning his pulse was found to be 66. A morning his pulse was found to be 66. A little before noon, attended by about forty physicians, he went to the stage of the Olympic Theatre, where a table had been elaborately set for his first meal in forty-five days. About 1,000 persons occupied the parquette and balconies to witness the breaking up of the fast. Griscom was introduced by W. K. Harrison, who also gave a personal and professional assurance that the fast had been bona fide in every respect. Griscom responded briefly, in every respect. Griscom responded briefly, but in a voice sufficiently full and strong to be plainly heard all over the house.

OLD SOL ON THE RAMPAGE.

Excessive Heat and Fatal Results in Different Parts of the Country.

Great heat has been experienced in several parts of the country within a few days and in some cities the death rate has been largely increased by eases of sun-stroke.

In Baltimore

there was more intense suffering yesterday from the effects of the heat than during any other day this summer. Although the thermometer at the Signal Office recorded only 90° as the highest temperature, which was 6° lower than it was several days last week, the large quantity of moisture in the atmosphere prevented the air from evaporating perspiration, and, as a consequence, the heat was more severely felt than it would have been had the thermometer marked 100° and the atmosphere been clear. At 7 o'clock a. m. the thermometer was 74°; at 11, 87°; at midday, 90°; at 3 p. m., 88°; at 7 p. m., 83°, and at 10 o'clock it was the same.

The United States Signal Service thermometer registered 103 5-10 degrees at fifteen minutes past 3 Sunday afternoon. An ordinary thermometer registered from seven to eight degrees higher in the shade. The heat was the greatest on record here. The coroner was called to attend thirteen deaths, all from congestion of the brain, supposed to have been superinduced by the excessive heat. There were twelve sunstrokes.

A dispatch from Cincinnati, dated to-day, says:

"The intense heat continues, the thermometer registering 90 at 8 o'clock this a.m. There is a great deal of sickness, caused by the heat, and yesterday's death-rate is unparalleled. The coroner was overrun with business last night. He was unable to provide quarters for all the dead bodies, and some were allowed to lie for hours where they fell, guarded by policemen. There are some indications, however, of more fivorable weather."

weather."
Thirty-eight cases of prostration by the heat have been reported since Friday, twenty-three of which have proved fatal.

tions since Saturday.

New York.

The heat was especially disagreeble in New York city, though the temperature was ten and twelve degrees below the maximum in other places. The air was heavy and laden with electricity, which the imminent clouds occasionally dispelled, but the relief was only temporary. The murkiness was greatest about 4½. At the Sienal Service Station on the Equitable murkiness was greatest about 42. At the Signal Service Station on the Equitable building it was said: "No wonder the day has been almost unendurable in the city. The wind is from the southwest—right from the heart of the big hot wave, and solve as to be scarcely perceptible. Then the general humidity is 90° without rain, and the thermometer hovering about 77°. The whole of America seems at top notch.

Other Points. In Covington, Ky., there were six cases of sunstroke yesterday, four of which proved fatal.

In Indianapolis there were three fatal cases, and a number of others are reported. Washington. The heat of this city was, as all have reason to know, most intense yesterday and to-
